

What Next?

Introducing www.mystudyhall.com

by Donald L. Potter
January 12, 2010
www.donpotter.net

Many parents and teachers wonder what to do next after children learn to read with phonics. There is far more to good reading and writing than just mastering English Orthography (Spelling), as vital as that is.

I would like to recommend www.mystudyhall.com (MSH.com) as the best website for learning grammar and writing skills necessary for high school and college work.

I use MSH.com with all the older students that I have taught to read. The program will help them to increase their command of English vocabulary, grammar, and composition.

The in-depth program is very well thought out. When a student finishes a lesson, his scores can be sent to three different e-mail addresses. Students can see what questions they miss so the program is basically self-teaching. Mrs. Garner and I even recommend it to teachers and administrators who would like to brush up on their grammar and writing skills.

Mrs. Garner is happy to do a free demonstration lesson by phone and computer to help teachers and parents learn the ins and outs of the program. Her contact information is below.

To learn more about MyStudyHall.com, please go to the website where you can sign up for a free 20-day trial to view everything on the website.

Donna Garner
Writer/Consultant
www.MyStudyHall.com (254)-666-2798
wgarner1@hot.rr.com